TEMPTATION

Americans have been duly impressed by statistics on the two largest boats in the world, the Normandie and the Queen Mary. The former has been in service for the greater part of a year. The latter will make her first voyage next year.

With the two ships, France and England feel they have upheld their national honor against Germany and Italy, both of which have made impertinent challenges for Atlantic supremacy the last few years with new, fast luxury liners. It is strictly a matter of nationalistic competition.

The Normandie, which has satisfied French pride at the expense of the French pocketbook, is the greatest ship in service. Unfortunately, however, statistics showing the vessel's superiority are deficient in one respect. In them there is no mention of how much money the Normandie, which has been sailing with only a handful of passengers, is losing.

The Queen Mary, when she is placed in service, will be no more fortunate in this respect. Eventually the English boat and the French boat may justify their cost, but at the moment they are nothing more than expensive advertisements. Keeping up with the Joneses applies to countries as well as to families.

The United States, which hasn't cut much of a figure on the sea since the days of the New England sailing ships, is not immune to temptation, of course. It merely happens that this country hasn't been willing in the past to spend public money on ships as freely as its neighbors. But all things change, and rumors that the United States is ready to dish out the millions to build a superliner are easy to believe. In days like these few millions spent for ships wouldn't be noticed. Anything less than a boat as large as the Normandie and Queen Mary combined, with the Rex and Bremen hanging over the sides for lifeboats, will be a disappointment.

SUSPENSE

The superiority of anticipation over realization is manifest again as the time for the supreme court's decisions on new deal legislation draws nearer. Instead of growing more nervous, as it should, the country seems to have adjusted itself to a conviction that the heavens are not going to fall and that the day after the court finds some controversial act unconstitutional life will move along about as usual.

Some of this complacency in the country's attitude can be traced, no doubt, to the fact that the day after the court ruled unfavorably to the national recovery act in the Schechter case life moved on as usual. In a week, the sharp edge of excitement had worn off. In a month, bold spirits were daring to jibe at the prophets of gloom. Somehow or other, the country survived.

Perhaps this is nothing but a complicated way of saying that the United States took the first major judicial reverse of new deal legislation in its stride. Americans like to believe they are politically superior to the excitable Latin and the bigoted Britain. They like to think of themselves as citizens who act upon logic, but never upon passion. They want to believe they have established and are supporting a government of laws, above the influence of temporary characters and influences.

At any rate, the country is showing fewer of the signs of nervous suspense a few weeks before the time when the supreme court will rule on one or more of the vital new deal cases before it. Along with confidence, the United States has recovered some of the poise which has distinguished it from other nations in political thinking and acting.

Watching business men and politicians, Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, can not see where people have more to hope for from politicians. Mr. Farley's answer to that would be more political jobs.—Toledo Blade.

With the requirement that all brakes shall be thoroughly inspected, a lot of people, instead of running over a man, should be able to stop right on top of him.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Russians and the Japs have buried the hatchet, but both of them know exactly where it is.—New York Herald Tribune.

The uneducated have one advantage. They aren't filled with gloom when some football team loses.—St. Louis Star-Times.

THE STARS SAY

For Saturday, December 21

The planetary influences bearing rule on the affairs of this day may be interpreted as fairly fortunate, although these good prospects must not be jeopardized by indulgences in rash, impulsive or tumultuous conduct. There is prospect of an elderly person or long established institution being friendly disposed to such a substantial degree as to give stability to the fortunes.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of substantial increase of the fortunes, probably by gift, inheritance or insurance. But be careful not to jeopardize such good fortune by disputes, wrangling or impulsive conduct. All pertaining to writings should flourish.

A child born on this day may be hard working, faithful and ambitious, but should be disciplined in infancy as to rash and headstrong behavior.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Thoughts while strolling. Who remembers when dancers held each other at polite distance? Blyth Daly habituated for a canter in the park. That Ole Bill taxi driver with the catfish mustaches near the St. Regis. Jane Cowie's plucky poise.

Look-alikes: James Gleason and Courtney Ryley Cooper. An interesting discovery of Don Clarke's: Without fear, a human body floats. Fearful, it sinks. Nobody gives furs more dash than Margaret Pemberton. Wonder if John D. Jr. and his wife ever discuss household expenses.

Study in neatness: Ed Thorngerson's mustaches. John Horgan is not merely well dressed. He's a production. Add hilarities that make New York New York: The theatre program telling the audience how to behave. They used to giggle but now they applaud La Guardia at the news reels.

Name for a clod: slump. Louis Sobol looks twice his age with hat off. Heart-break for someone: A dog slips leash and is off in the crowd. Off-shoots of the Major Bowes craze: An Amateur Hour game and a rubber gadget that squeaks "Al right, al right!" Jaw jitters: James Hilton and Pat O'Brien.

Mad urge: To slip up behind the urbane Ben Ali Haggin and whisper: "Want a guide, sir?" Few of the newspaper crowd so sadly missed as Tad. Ellis Parker Butler could switch his name around any way and it would sound o. k. And pronouncing Chic Endor sounds like the last despairing gasp of an auto.

A singer of blues songs in a Miami cabaret writes me she cured herself of stammering since birth by practising this tongue limberer one hour every morning:

The deed is done,
And done it is
And wise was he that did it
Let no one know that knoweth not
Nor do it again that did it.

Barry Benefield takes whatever they give authors for topping in self restraint. He has not read a single review, and most are laudatory, for his recent "Valiant is the Word for Carrie." He admits he's itching to wade through them but is motivated by a selfish interest. He does not want to confuse his own standards and be tempted to please many masters instead of pleasing himself. Even when they filmed "Chicken Wagon Family" he did not go to see it.

Overheard at "No 21": "I'm reading The Life of Lola Montez."
"O, yes, I know—she's the one who married Eugene O'Neill."

Celebrities often select strange names for pets. Alice Brady's three wire-haired pooches are Jessie, Nina and Sammy. Lavinia Madder's Scottie is "Mourning Becomes Electra." Walter Connolly's spaniel, "Butter." Irene Franklin's Sealy, "McGilluddy," and Mrs. Frank Craven's Peke, "Hun-h." Then Thyra Samter Winslow's pom, "Osito." Dorothy Parker's dachshund, "Robinson," and Mrs. Pat Campbell's white ball of fur, "Moon Beam." Don Russen's enormous Great Dane is "Sweetie." Ruth Weston's Sealyham, "All's Quiet on the Western Front." Tallulah Bankhead's fawn peke, "Annie," and Jack Barrymores monkey, "Clementine." Then, of course, the Prince of Wales' Cairn, "Cora."

I notice The Black Cat again blazes at its original crouch under the "El" in The Village. It was likely the first Bohemian restaurant to be flavored with replicas of Montmartre cafe characters. Such as Sonia the cigaret girl; Tiny Tim and his tray of soul candy and Bobby Edwards and his cigar box ukelele. In the same neighborhood Grace Godwin's Garret spluttered a candle glow and each Sunday night the Fred Dayton had free spreads for those fumbling for a toe hold on the literary ladder. Many are "big names" today.

At Grace Godwin's I saw for the first and only time husky John Reed who was setting off for Russia to die so tragically. The same evening a timid little man with thick glasses and a squint came peering in. The world now knows him as Leon Trotsky.

One of the steinway built girls, stepping from a bus, was slipping into what looked like a hard fall, but righted herself before the crash. A platform clown yelled: "Ex-tree, New York escapes earthquake!"

The improvement of the Salem-Lisbon rd., making a continuous road surfaced highway from East Liverpool to Salem will be one of the first jobs next year on the road program planned by county commissioners.

Wednesday evening Dr. W. H. Thompson will show motion pictures and slide pictures of interesting local sights during the past few weeks. Motion reels will show scenes taken at the dedication of the post-office building and at the Lisbon-Salem football game Thanksgiving day.

The big community Christmas tree is in its place on the corner of Main and Broadway. It was raised last Saturday afternoon by members of the tree committee and as soon as it is wired and decorated, will be ready for the celebration Friday evening.

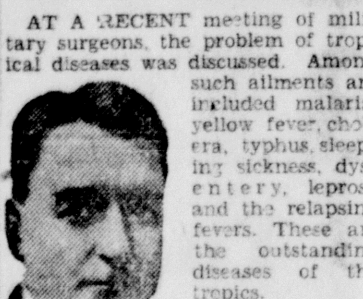

Super-Liners Proposed for U. S. Merchant Fleet

Two ships, such as shown in architect's drawing, designed to carry 10,000 cabin passengers each are proposed to government by Paul W. Chapman, shipping magnate, who seeks $100,000,000 federal fund for their construction. The super-liners would be 1,250 feet long, the largest in the world, and would have a speed of 34 knots. Funnels and masts could be lowered automatically to provide a landing field for planes. In time of war each ship could carry 20,000 troops and an air fleet.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

AT A RECENT meeting of military surgeons, the problem of tropical diseases was discussed. Among such ailments are included malaria, yellow fever, cholera, typhus, sleeping sickness, dysentery, leprosy and the relapsing fevers. These are the outstanding diseases of the tropics.

These ailments are a great problem to an invading army. In the Ethiopian campaign special precautions had to be taken against these infections. Contrary to a common belief, the existence of the so-called tropical diseases is not limited to tropical climates. Indeed, before the application of our present-day maritime regulations, it was not unheard of to encounter these diseases in epidemic form in our own country.

Quarantine officers are always on the watch out for tropical diseases. In the domestic ports, not only the passengers, but their clothing and baggage are inspected upon arrival. In the foreign ports inspection is made of the vessel, passengers and seamen before embarkation to the western world. To prevent the introduction and spread of disease from abroad, the ships are fumigated as well.

Dreaded Disease
Of all the other tropical diseases, few are as dreaded as cholera. This ailment is rarely met in America, being confined to Asiatic countries and South America. It is almost always found in the Philippines, and frequently appears there in epidemic form.

Like many other of the tropical diseases, cholera is usually associated with filth and unhygienic conditions. It is caused by a germ called the "spirillum cholerae." This organism is also known as the "comma bacillus," because of its close resemblance to the punctuation mark, the comma.

These germs are found in contaminated food and water. The disease is quickly spread by faulty sanitation. The germs are transmitted to man by soiled fingers, contaminated food, clothes and flies.

Cholera is characterized by diarrhea, cramps and prostration. It is a mild form of cholera. If it attacks a person unaccustomed to tropical conditions, may prove to be quite serious.

"Carriers" Menace
Cholera is difficult to eradicate because the germs may be carried by persons who are unaware that they harbor the infection. Such persons are called "carriers." They carry the germs of cholera and yet do not themselves suffer from the disease. Of course, they are a constant menace to others.

Until some definite cure or means of prevention is discovered, cholera will be a menace to civilized peoples.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—Ted Healy, 19, CCC worker, was accused of tampering with motor cars. "I was broke and just looking for a cigarette," he told the judge. "The officers should have given you a cigarette and turned you loose," said Judge A. A. Scott. "You dismissed."

P. S. The judge bought Ted a carton of cigarettes and paid him way back to camp.

Mrs. Herbert President of Mission Unit

Mrs. Scott Herbert was named president of the Esther E. Baird Missionary circle of the First Friends church yesterday during the Christmas party and business session held at the home of Mrs. Ebert Allen on Jennings ave.

Other officers for 1936 are: Vice president, Mrs. Frank Scullion; secretary, Mrs. John Schaffer; assistant secretary, Mrs. Charles O'Connell; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Parsons. Mrs. L. L. Park was in charge of the devotions and Mrs. Charles Riley, the program. Mrs. C. F. Bailey gave some prophecies on the coming of Christ. Mrs. William Baker had a reading, "The Kingdom of the Unwanted," followed by a talk on Christmas, and a poem, "Christmas Story," given by Mrs. Riley. The song, "Joy to the World," by the group closed the program.

During the meeting two boxes were prepared to be sent to the mission at Brownsburg, Va., and to the Quaker orphanage at McConnell, N. C., for Christmas.

The hostess and her assistant hostess, Mrs. Harry Haviland, served a lunch and guests enjoyed a social time with a gift exchange.

The meeting on Jan. 16 at the church rooms will open with a coverdinner and all members and husbands are invited to attend.

Mullins Boosters At Yule Fete

Mullins Boosters girls held their annual Christmas party last night at the Quaker tea house, the affair opening with a 7 o'clock dinner served to 35 members of the club.

The table, decorated in yuletide colors, had as centerpiece a miniature Christmas tree and red candles in green holders lighted the table. Favors at each place were little dolls with cellophane dresses filled with candy.

After the dinner the group elected officers for the new year, naming Miss Henrietta Tucker as president. Other officers for 1936 are: Vice president, Miss Wilhelmina Prasco; secretary-treasurer, Miss Mary Hickling.

A social evening was enjoyed with a gift exchange and later bridge. Miss Prasco won the prize in bridge.

Just Right Club Mas Meeting

Mrs. G. H. Green was hostess to associates of the Just Right club Thursday afternoon at her home on East Third st., at a coverdinner and Christmas party.

The dinner table was attractive with pink and green decorations. A large pink and white cake formed a centerpiece and at each place were pink candles in little gum drop holders.

Mrs. Mattie Read was a guest of the club yesterday. After the dinner the club had a Christmas gift exchange followed by a contest which was won by Mrs. B. W. Olson.

On Jan. 16 Mrs. Pearl Nusbaum will receive the club at her home on West Fifth st.

Entertains Members Of O. E. S. Staff

Mrs. C. E. Phillips, retiring worthy matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, entertained her officers and committees last evening at a dinner party at her home on South Lincoln ave.

Thirty-seven guests were seated at a beautifully appointed table. Two Christmas baskets formed mirrored centerpiece decorations. At each place was a miniature Japanese vase with little Christmas bouquets. Tall red candles in crystal holders lighted the table. A lighted tree was a feature of the house decorations.

A Christmas box was enjoyed during the evening after the dinner.

Old Fashioned Yule Is Described

Mrs. H. J. Thompson spoke on "Ancient Ways of Observing Christmas" yesterday at the meeting of the Bethlehem class at the Methodist church. Mrs. Thompson discussed old Christmas carols and sang one of the carols.

The gift exchange which followed and the Christmas tree were and Miss Ella Beeson. Lunch was served by the committee, which included Mrs. C. H. Calkins, Mrs. W. H. Kneseley, Mrs. A. C. Prethy, Mrs. Amos Entriens and Mrs. J. K. Olnhausen.

Mrs. G. E. Votaw will entertain the class on Jan. 16 at her home, 834 North Lincoln ave.

Schwartz Employes Are Entertained

Mrs. Goldie K. Schwartz entertained employes of the Schwartz store Wednesday evening at her home on North Lincoln ave., at a turkey dinner.

Guests were seated at an attractively appointed table with a large basket of fruit as a centerpiece decoration. At each place were favors, little turtles made from walnut shells, in red and green.

A gift exchange followed the dinner and later the guests played bridge and "500," prizes going to Mrs. Guy Coppock and LeRoy Girard.

Yule Box Feature Of Club Program

A Christmas box was a feature of the social afternoon enjoyed by Ellsworth Avenue club members Thursday at the home of Mrs. M. C. McClash. The afternoon was spent informally.

The next meeting on Jan. 9 will be held at the home of Mrs. Bixler on the Ellsworth rd.

Bridge Tilt Has Circus Aspect

Oswald Jacoby

Baron de Nexon

Something new in the way of public entertainment will be staged at Madison Square Gardens when four bridge experts go into a huddle in a glass cage for an international match starting Dec. 23. This soundproof glass cage is designed to prevent the players from being distracted and give the crowd their money's worth. This spectacle, which brings together the "American Aces" headed by Oswald Jacoby and the French champions captained by Baron de Nexon, has many of the aspects of a circus. Suppose an impetuous American were to tweak an irate French player's beard and the bearded one were to chase his assailant around the glass cage brandishing a pistol—or fancy the plight of the players of a particularly long contemplative coma ended with all players dozing, the audience gone, and the janitor the only spectator—or consider how Ziegfeld would have added color to the event by having a bevy of beauties portray each card as it is played and re-enact the course of the cards!

Washingtonville Circle Meets

Ladies of the Ruth circle of the Methodist church at Washingtonville had their monthly meeting and annual Christmas entertainment Wednesday evening at the Roller tea room near Columbiana.

A steak dinner was served at 7 p. m. at a table made attractive with Christmas appointments and lighted by candles.

Contests and games followed the dinner and Mrs. Elmer Vignon and Mrs. Donald Greenmyer won the prizes.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Voip in Washingtonville.

Duplicate Bridge Players Meet

Salem duplicate bridge players assembled at the Memorial building last night for the last time until after the holidays. The bi-weekly tournaments will be resumed after New Year's.

North and South players with high scores last night were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hostetter, 37; Mrs. Joseph Kelley and Glenn Harding, 30; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kille, 28. East and West, Vincent Judge and Joseph Kelley, 27½; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Windle, 26; Mrs. Lewis Smith and Mrs. Fred Crowgey, 25.

Mrs. Hilda Edling Is Hostess

Mrs. Hilda Edling entertained the gold stampers of the Salem China Co., at a Christmas party Tuesday evening at her home, guests being present from Beloit, Leclonia, Allamore and Salem.

A Christmas exchange and games were enjoyed during the pleasant social evening. The hostess served a lunch. Christmas decorations were used in the lunch and throughout the house, a large decorated tree being a feature. Game prizes were awarded to Mrs. Mary Willis and Miss Edna Reed.

Saxons Plan Dance

Following the basketball games Saturday between Canton and Salem Saxons teams, a banquet and dance, which will be open to the public, will be given at the Saxon hall. Jack Bernhart's orchestra will play for the dance.

Damascus Pastor To Preach Sunday

DAMASCUS, Dec. 20.—Rev. A. R. Anderson, pastor of the Methodist church will use for his subject next Sunday, "How Come Christmas?" Special music will be furnished. A treat will be given the children of the Sunday school.

The members of the Epworth league will attend midnight mass at the St. Paul's church in Salem, Tuesday evening, Dec. 24. Preceding this they will sing Christmas carols.

Thursday services at the Friends church will be held at 9:30 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. The pastor, Rev. Amos Henry will lead the morning service and Miss Mary French the evening prayer meeting.

Next Sunday evening a Christmas program will be given at the Friends church at 7:30. The Christian Endeavor meeting has been cancelled.

Prayer meeting will be held at Garfield chapel at 7:30 p. m. Thursday with Miss Hazel Buckholdt, leader.

Meet After School
The Musical Messenger Sunshine club met at the chapel after school today.

Program Presented At Mission Meet

A delightful Christmas program of readings, music and poems was presented yesterday at the meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Baptist church at the home of the president, Mrs. C. L. Hart-sough, on North Lincoln ave.

The group enjoyed a 1 o'clock casserole dinner in charge of the social committee, Mrs. J. P. Hayden and Mrs. Ralph Snyder.

Mrs. Hart-sough opened the meeting after the dinner and presided during the brief business session as the opening number of the program. Mrs. Frank Hanson and Mrs. Anna Olson, sisters, sang a lovely selection appropriate to the season, "The Angels Song." Their piano, Mrs. George Peltz, played the nice accompaniment for the selection which was one which the sisters sang when they were girls.

Mrs. Hanson, devotional leader for the group, also gave a Christmas lesson on David, taking her theme from the Bible. Mrs. Olson, program chairman, read an article on Central America and the Baptist work being done in Nicaragua and Honduras.

Interesting papers were read by Mrs. Emma Whinnery on "Bethlehem," Mrs. A. C. Weshphal on "Christmas Everywhere" and Mrs. Frank Eddy on "Christmas Bells." Mrs. A. W. Glass and Mrs. Ralph Snyder sang a duet, an arrangement of several Christmas carols. Mrs. James Hayden accompanied them at the piano.

Mrs. E. J. West gave the poem, "The Christmas Sheaf," and Mrs. Olson told a Christmas story about an old plantation in the south. Miss Sue Steiner sang, "Song of the Chimes" and "O Star Resplendent," accompanied by Mrs. A. W. Glass.

During the social hour the ladies enjoyed a gift exchange.

A missionary pageant will be given at the church at the next meeting of the society on Jan. 13.

Birthday Surprise

A birthday surprise arranged by 12 friends was given yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Ella Ferrall at her home on Penn st. A handkerchief shower was a feature of the afternoon. Games were enjoyed and a coverdinner was served.

MANY ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER

Lisbon District Groups Enjoy Event In Han- overton Church

LISBON, Dec. 20.—Social groups from Lisbon attended the annual turkey dinner at the Hanoverton Christian church Thursday evening, sponsored by the Men's Bible class of that church. Approximately 300 were served. Others were present from Salem and East Liverpool.

The event has been arranged by the Men's Bible class for many years, and is considered one of the outstanding social events of the season in Hanover township.

Miss Elizabeth Loudon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Loudon and Robert B. Thorne of Sallineville were married at the home of the parents of the bride near Gavers by the Rev. G. L. Palmer of Bethel Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Thorne will make their home at Sallineville.

Recovers From Fall
Mrs. Clyde Hadley, East Lincoln way, who recently suffered a fractured shoulder blade when she fell, is recovering.

The annual Christmas treat for children here, sponsored by the Kiwanis club, will take place Tuesday afternoon at the Lisbon Opera house. Robert Madigan will provide free movies before the candy boxes are distributed.

Returns Home
After spending three weeks in the Salem City hospital, Mrs. Bruce Nevin has been returned to her home here on West Lincoln way.

Leaves For West
Att'y Charles C. Connell left today for California where he will spend the holiday season with Mrs. Connell who is at Los Angeles, after which he will make a trip through Mexico before returning here.

Auxiliary session
The American Legion auxiliary home here this evening. A Christmas exchange will be held.

Fear Blind Senator May Die of Injuries

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Friends feared today for the life of Thomas D. Schall, blind Republican senator from Minnesota, who was struck down by an automobile last night as he walked across a highway near his Berwyn Heights, Md., home.

Both bones in the senator's left leg were crushed. He suffered from a serious head injury and had not regained consciousness many hours after the accident.

Orel Leen, 39, secretary to the 58-year-old senator, also was hit as he helped Schall across the street. Though he suffered scalp injuries, leg bruises and a possible concussion of the brain, his condition was not considered grave.

MURDER HINTED IN TODD DEATH

Evidence Indicates Slaying, Grand Jury Foreman Says

which Sid Grauman, theatrical impresario, and three persons were seated. Shortly afterward she departed.

The sinister aspects of the case included extortion threats which had aroused the actress' fears to such a pitch she urged her chauffeur to drive homeward at breakneck speed, and the possibility the enmity of professional gamblers was stirred by reports gaming was contemplated by Miss Todd's cafe at Santa Monica.

Attorneys Are Called
Grand jury subpoenas were issued for:
Roland West, former screen director and co-partner with Miss Todd in her seaside cafe, who testified he "locked out" the actress Sunday morning from the building where they had adjoining living quarters.

May Whitehead, the comedienne's personal maid, who discovered the body, and who gave Miss Todd her only key to the cafe building before she left for the Trocadero party.

Ernest Peters, auto livery operator, who drove Miss Todd home from the party at 3:30 a. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Martha Ford, actor's wife, who said she talked with Miss Todd over the telephone Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock.

Grauman, Hollywood showman who telephoned West from the Trocadero at 1:55 a. m. Sunday that Miss Todd was leaving for the beach.

Jewel Carmen, actress and estranged wife of West, who added to the puzzling mystery by telling police she had seen Miss Todd and a "foreign-looking man" driving in Hollywood boulevard at 11 o'clock Sunday night in the same automobile in which the body was found on Monday.

Twelve thousand persons filed by the casket in which the actress' body lay in state for five hours yesterday.

SCHOOL LEADER CLUB SPEAKER

Columbiana Superintendent Addresses Rotarians at Meeting

COLUMBIANA, Dec. 20.—C. B. Riggie, superintendent of schools gave a talk Monday evening at the Columbiana Rotary club at Valley Golf club. He explained the school foundation program, which goes into effect in Ohio Jan. 1.

Guests Are Present

Rev. Carl Sutich, new Lutheran minister, was present as the guest of Isaiah Mowen, Rotarians Bob Nelson, T. R. Phillips, J. G. McKay and Aaron Hays. Youngtown, was present. Dr. C. W. Dewalt, Kiwanis club president, invited the Rotarians, with their wives to attend a joint meeting of the two clubs Dec. 30 in the American Legion hall, at which time the guest speaker will be "Roy" Rowsell, Pittsburgh radio speaker, who broadcasts regularly over KDKA. There will be no Rotary meeting next week.

Held Class Meeting

The Faith, Hope and Charity class of Grace Reformed Sunday school met Monday evening at the home of Miss Ina Mae Esterly, Fairfield road, with Miss Mercy Davidson as associate hostess. There were 21 members present and one guest, Miss Nelda DeStefano.

The president, Miss Wilma Knopp, presided at the business meeting and new officers were elected for 1936 as follows: President, Mrs. Jarod Pfau; vice president, Mrs. Davidson; secretary-treasurer, Lois Knopp. The class decided to change the date of the socials to the last Tuesday of the month. A gift exchange was held, followed by games and lunch.

Yule Party Held

Following the regular Monday evening, members of Pandora Rebekah lodge, with their families enjoyed a Christmas party in I. O. O. F. hall. Christmas carols, games and contests were enjoyed in charge of Mrs. Arthur Myers and Mrs. Raymond Snook. A gift exchange was held.

Auxiliary Meets

The regular meeting of the Ladies' auxiliary of the American Legion was held Wednesday evening. The county council meeting will be held at Lisbon Friday evening.

The class of the Presbyterian Sunday school, taught by Mrs. John Down, held a Christmas party Wednesday evening at her home. A gift exchange will be held.

Music pupils of Mrs. R. J. Barrow, assisted by talent from Youngstown performed in recital Monday evening at the Presbyterian church. A large audience being present to enjoy the program.

Class Convenes

The class of the Methodist Sunday school, taught by Mrs. Hazel Reierick, met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Walter Lindsay. A gift exchange was held.

The Willing Workers class of Grace Reformed Sunday school will meet tonight at the church for the annual Christmas party. A coverdish dinner will be served.

Dies in West

Relatives here have received word of the death of a former Columbiana resident, Mrs. James Halverstadt, which occurred Dec. 10 at Los Angeles, Calif.

The Luther league met Monday evening at the church to pick a Christmas box for missionaries.

Visits Near Here

Mrs. W. J. Shields, Steubenville, is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Richardson, east of Columbiana.

Kiwanis Meeting

Mark Klingensmith read a paper on banking at the meeting of the Columbiana Kiwanis club held in the Lutheran church. President C. W. Dewalt gave an account of his hunting trip in Pennsylvania, when he shot his first deer.

Will France Bow to Dictator?

De la Roque reviews his Croix de Feu

Premier Laval

Will France bow to a dictator? The answer to that question may possibly rest with Robert de la Roque, distinguished war veteran and head of the powerful Croix de Feu, French Fascist organization. Current political unrest in France has made his position an increasingly important one. More than 150,000 veterans have joined his organization which is bitterly opposed to Communistic factions in the French government and equally antagonistic to the right wing which is capitalistic in sympathies. De la Roque was born in 1886, son of a French general, has 24 years of military service to his credit, and looms as the "strong silent man" in the French political situation. He may prove the strategic factor in the battle which Premier Pierre Laval is now waging to prevent political chaos.

Theater Attractions

"Stars Over Broadway" Warner Bros. new musical, presenting two radio stars, James Melton and Jane Froman, will be shown at the State theater tonight and tomorrow. Jean Muir, Pat O'Brien, Frank McHugh, Frank Fay and Phil Regan compose the all star cast.

The new song, "At Your Service Madame," is a spectacular number staged by Bobby Connolly, noted dance director of Hollywood. Popular songs and classical numbers are sung by Miss Froman and Melton.

Amateur Hour Amusing In an amusing scene Frank Fay conducts an amateur radio hour with all sorts of unheard of musical instruments competing. Pat O'Brien characterizes a Broadway theatrical agent down on his luck, who accidentally picks a man with a great voice and rises to fame with the discovery. James Melton plays the porter, protégé of O'Brien's.

Jean Muir and O'Brien supply the love interest of the production although their love runs anything but smoothly. Frank McHugh is a song plugger and pal of O'Brien's. The Grand features a Fox film starring George O'Brien, entitled "Whispering Smith Speaks". He depicts a railroad magnate's son who leaves home and undertakes to become a railroad man on his own.

In the course of his adventures, O'Brien crosses a dilapidated old railroad which has a beautiful girl for a general manager. Irene Ware plays the part of the girl. Fascinated by the girl and the situation, O'Brien decides to stay there, although he is employed as a lowly track walker.

Outsmarts Father In time, however, O'Brien gets his chance to outsmart his father. The old mogul is negotiating secretly to obtain possession of the road belonging to the girl. He wants the railroad because he learns that the property contains valuable deposits of minerals.

Through a clever plot O'Brien outwits his father and proves to him also that he is a capable railroad man. He wins the hand of Miss Ware and the blessings of his father.

Ex-Husband Held In Woman's Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20. — Thomas L. Matkins was held without charge today in the death plunge of his divorced wife, Olga Steek, former Zeinfeld Polles beauty, from his 12th story hotel room.

The 30-year-old bond salesman told police "I can't explain what happened but I feel sure she jumped from the window." He said he heard a "swish" behind him as he was packing a box and when he turned she had vanished.

"We don't believe Matkins is telling the truth," Police Inspector Allen McGinn said. "There was a violent quarrel and we want to find out what it was about."

NAME OFFICERS AT GREENFORD

Lutheran Sunday School Elects; Circle Plans Future Meetings

GREENFORD, Dec. 19.—The following officers have been elected at the Lutheran Sunday school: Ralph Hendricks, superintendent; Frederick Puthamer, assistant superintendent; Mary Weikart, secretary; Albert Lang, treasurer; Wilbur Diesel, pianist, and Rev. Hoyer, chorister.

Plan Meetings
The Home Circle club met at the Dismore, recently. Plans were made for the Christmas party to be held at Raymond Knopp's New Year's eve. The January meeting will be at the Foster Reed home.
The Pythian Sisters held their Christmas party and gift exchange Tuesday evening.
The Juvenile Grangers and Boy Scouts held their Christmas party at the first floor of the grange hall. The Senior grange met upstairs.

The holiday vacation begins Dec. 20 for the school children, reopening Jan. 6.
Plan T. B. Tests
County health officials will conduct tuberculosis tests in the township soon. Parents interested in this should notify Mr. Cobbe.
C. N. Lambright shot a deer in the mountains last week.
The township house is having windows installed and a chimney constructed.

Name Officers
Thirty-five persons gathered around the tables at the covered supper at the Farm Bureau meeting at Albert Lang's Tuesday evening. Martin Kenrich was elected president; Albert Lang, vice president; Mrs. E. R. Kurtz, secretary.

Enjoy Meeting
The Thanksgiving meeting at the parsonage was enjoyed by those present. Mrs. Keister spoke on the Missionary Lamp. Mrs. Fahr spoke of the Standard of Excellence rules.

The Christian church choir of Columbiana gave their Christmas cantata at the Greenford Christian church recently.

Miss Ada Linhoss of Salem visited her sister, Mrs. Nichols, Sunday.

Guests Recently
Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Williamson were Mr. and Mrs. William Nichols, sons David and Paul and Miss Ada Linhoss.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Barnes and Calvin Schoffner visited Sunday at Joe Schoffners, Austintown.

Oldest Chevrolet Sought In District

Chevrolet's one millionth car of 1935 production is to be presented to the owner of the oldest Chevrolet licensed and in regular use in the United States. Ward Eckstein of the Salem Motor Co., reports that he and other dealers in this locality have been asked to discover whether the oldest Chevrolet is in their territory.

The one millionth Chevrolet built within the current year came off the assembly line at Flint, Mich., on Dec. 12, just eight days after Chevrolet produced its eleven millionth car since the beginning of the company.

Presentation of the millionth car of the year—a 1935 Standard coach—will be made to the owner whose Chevrolet is discovered between Dec. 16, 1935 and midnight Jan. 15, 1936, to be the oldest model licensed and in regular service.

It is specified that, to win, the millionth Chevrolet must have been regularly licensed for operation during the current year, possessing its own 1935 license tags issued before December 1. It must, also, have been licensed as a passenger car, and be equipped with a complete passenger car body. It must bear original engine and chassis numbers, legible and unaltered.

Bargains are plentiful. The ads will tell you where.

Blood Transfusion Given Dog

A dog's life isn't always a snap. Mac, Great Dane, at the right, contracted pneumonia following an automobile accident, and when doctors decided he needed blood, Spike, his St. Bernard pal, submitted to an operation in Los Angeles, performed by Dr. Preston LeR Gsell, left.

Male--Not Female--Weaker Of The Sexes Doctor Says

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Male—not female—is the weaker sex. This may not be news to most wives, but Dr. Edgar V. Allen of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., predicted today it would be a hard blow to many husbands.

The female of the species—despite tradition and biblical quotation—is stronger than the male, he said. At least she lives longer and is less often the victim of serious disease.

He cited these findings from 300,000 cases to prove his point in an article in the magazine Hypatia, published by the American Medical Association.

More male babies are born than female.

Of those that live, more males are deformed than are females. More male children die in infancy than females.

At 10 years of age, a boy's life expectancy is four years shorter than a girl's.

Pity the Men

Men are more afflicted than are women with ulcers of the stomach, cancer, hardening of the liver, pneumonia, asthma, hardening of the arteries, gout, kidney and urinary troubles, disease of the spinal cord and brain.

There are more widows than widowers.

Women begin to predominate over men at 55 years.

They definitely outnumber males at 75 years.

Twice as many women live to be 100 years old.

The explanation that "men work harder, smoke more, drink more alcohol and live more irregularly as regards food and rest" is not the reason for female "superiority," Doctor Allen asserted.

"The price of maleness is weakness," he said. "There can hardly be any other explanation than that the male is handicapped by a lessened degree of vitality that is directly or indirectly the result of a peculiar complex of hereditary factors."

After examining the apparel, the agents looked themselves in Milne's room. Later it was learned the youth told them four men lured him into an automobile, blindfolded him and told him:

"You're going to stay with us and keep your mouth shut too, if you know what's good for you."

Fed Once in Four Days

Milne was quoted as saying they slapped his face, injected narcotics into his arm with needles, taped his eyes and lips, trussed his arms and fed him only once in the four days he was held captive.

He spoke with difficulty, it was said. Physicians warned he still is ill from the narcotics, shock and exposure. It was said, however, that Milne was able to give the operatives many "leads" and that he directed them to the farmhouse.

Government operatives let it be known that they have sent information regarding the abductors to every bureau of investigation in the country. Maps of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio were studied.

YULE PROGRAMS TO BE SUNDAY

Columbiana Christian Church Scene of Two Features

COLUMBIANA, Dec. 20.—The Christmas Sunday school will offer a Christmas program at 10 a. m. Sunday, while at 7:45 p. m. the church, under the direction of Mrs. Donald Zellers, will present a cantata, "The Manger of Bethlehem."

Mrs. Ray Culp is pianist.

The Ladies' Aid society met at the church Thursday with Mrs. William Pine in charge of the business session.

Saturday afternoon in the church social room a Christmas party will be held for the children, beginning at 2 o'clock. Mrs. G. A. Funk and Mrs. Ray Culp will be in charge.

Enjoy Dinner
Compliments to their teacher, Mrs. Ralph Lowe, members of the Wide Awake class of Grace Reformed Sunday school enjoyed a turkey dinner and Christmas party at the church Tuesday.

In the afternoon, the business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. E. M. McCurry, and the devotionals were led by Mrs. Byron Snyder. Mrs. Jacob Albright told the Christmas story. A Christmas tree, gift exchange added to the pleasure of the party. The teacher was presented with a number of gifts.

The next social meeting of the class will be Jan. 17.

Ramblers Convene

Miss Helen Lodge entertained the Ramblers club Tuesday evening at her home, Middle st., two tables of bridge being enjoyed. Lunch was served following the games. A gift exchange was held. Miss Margaret McDonald was a guest. Miss Lois Roller will be hostess in three weeks.

Church Class Meets

The class of the Presbyterian Sunday school taught by Mrs. John Dowd, met at her home Wednesday evening for a Christmas party. Games and contests were enjoyed, followed by lunch. A gift exchange completed the entertainment.

W. I. B. Hostess

Mrs. R. J. Barrow will be hostess to bridge club associates this evening at a coffee-dish supper and then an annual Christmas party at her home.

Birth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John Gilechrist announce the birth of a son Tuesday evening.

Miss Caroline Webber of Salem visited Columbiana relatives Wednesday afternoon.

Sebring Club Holds 'Peer Gynt' Program

SEBRING, Dec. 20.—The program of the December meeting of the Sebring Woman's club, held Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. Walker Brownlee, was devoted to the Norwegian legend of "Peer Gynt" as dramatized by Henrik Ibsen and set to music by Edward Grieg.

LEGION'S WORK IS DESCRIBED

Not Just a Bonus Organization, John T. Burns Explains

sources is another and even more important goal. Burns told of the Legion's fight against Communism and its program of the Boy Scout which he emphasized is a means at the present time in fighting the "red wave" which is directed against the youth wherever possible.

The Legion, he pointed out, is firmly behind the scout movement and in many instances, as in Salem, sponsors troops of its own. The Legion is not a military organization, Burns stressed. "In fact," he asserted, "few organizations desire peace as much as these men who fought in the great war."

Must Have Defense

But he explained, knowledge acquired in the World War prompted Legion program which would make America at least able to defend herself. He cited figures clearly revealing the United States' position among the leading powers in most instances Uncle Sam trails the prominent nations in military power, so far as standing armies are concerned, as well as airplanes, ships and various armament. "The Legion does not desire aggression," Burns explained, "but does believe a nation should always be in position to defend itself."

Ray Bartholomew was chairman for the meeting.

WISH YOURSELF A Merry Christmas for 1936

We invite you to enjoy a "new-fashioned" Christmas next year. The old-fashioned way was to wait until the last minute to buy things—to scrape up all the money you could out of December earnings—to mortgage a good part of January earnings and look back upon it all with a grateful sigh—"Well, Christmas comes but once a year."

The new-fashioned way leaves all the merriness in Christmas, and takes out all the weariness. You save a definite amount each week, for 50 weeks. Before Christmas we send you a check, and the rest is sheer joy of giving. JOIN NOW.

High Cagers Run Rampant Over Wellsville In 39-24 Triumph

Quaker Quintet Makes The Tigers Its Third Victim of The Season

Eddie Pukalski and Kenneth Shears Again Lead Salem Attack; Cagers Will Be Idle During Holidays

A rampaging Salem High school Quaker basketball team, that would make any cage outfit in the district sit up and take notice, went the warpath at the High school gymnasium last night and with Eddie Pukalski and Kenneth Shears as the chief tomahawkers hung the Wellsville High Tigers' scalp to their victory belt in a 39-24 triumph.

Any Columbiana county cage championship hopes entertained by the Wellsville cagers were smothered deep into oblivion last night when the Quaker quintet clicked in midseason form to make the Tigers their third victim of the campaign and keep their record unblemished.

Lead handling that had the Tiger squad dazed plays that worked like machine-like precision and accuracy at the hoop which was remarkable, made the Quakers a superior hardwood combination that any thought of Wellsville serving as a test for the Black cagers may be dismissed.

Lead Attack
Veterans Pukalski and Shears led the Quaker attack but were well supported by Schlatter and Slagle. Pukalski scored the lions share of the points with 16 points while Shears added with nine markers to give their combined total to 60 points in three contests. All told, Quakers have scored 75 points in their three games.

Forecast the Tigers' leading scorer was Bill Connell who added up 14 points for the Wellsville cagers but his fine individual performance went practically unnoticed while the crowd centered attention on the Quaker veterans.

The victory gained by the Quakers by no means makes them the top team in the district. They were tops last night when they have yet to encounter an opponent which is of number one.

Idle During Holidays
The Quakers will return to action during the Christmas holidays.

WINONA LOSES CLASS B GAME

Methodists Cagers Win Over Trades Class 26 to 22

Winona, under a heavy barrage of shots from the guns of the cagers, Winona went down to defeat at 26-22 in one of the two Class B games at the Memorial gymnasium last night.

The Saxon attack launched led the cagers to 18 points and was closely followed by Spack with 17 markers. The other Class B game, the Methodists won a hotly-contested game from the Trades Class 26-22.

Trades cagers were outscored every period but the last when they rallied to mark up 10 points against 8 for the Methodist cagers.

Regulars Shears, Pukalski and Schlatter returned to the game late in the quarter and in the closing minute of the contest Shears was ousted on fouls.

In the warm-up battle between the Quaker and Tiger reserves the Salem second stringers also kept their record unmarred by downing the down-river secondaries 22-18.

Henry Smith and Cliff Lowry were outstanding for the Quakers while Moncrief performed well for the Tigers.

STANFORD SEEKS VICTORY IN BOWL

Coach "Tiny" Thornhill Says Indians Are "On the Spot"

PALO ALTO, Calif., Dec. 20. — Stanford "is on the spot," Coach C. E. (Tiny) Thornhill said today as he groomed his Indians for their third straight trip to the Rose Bowl.

Wants Victory
The 236-pound genial giant—inappropriately named "Tiny"—would like nothing better than a belated Christmas gift in the form of a victory over the Southern Methodist university Mustangs at Pasadena on New Year's day.

"We're on the spot, you might say, this time," said the coach whose teams have lost their last two engagements in the Rose Bowl. "If we don't come up with a winner, the rest of the country will think we don't play real football out here."

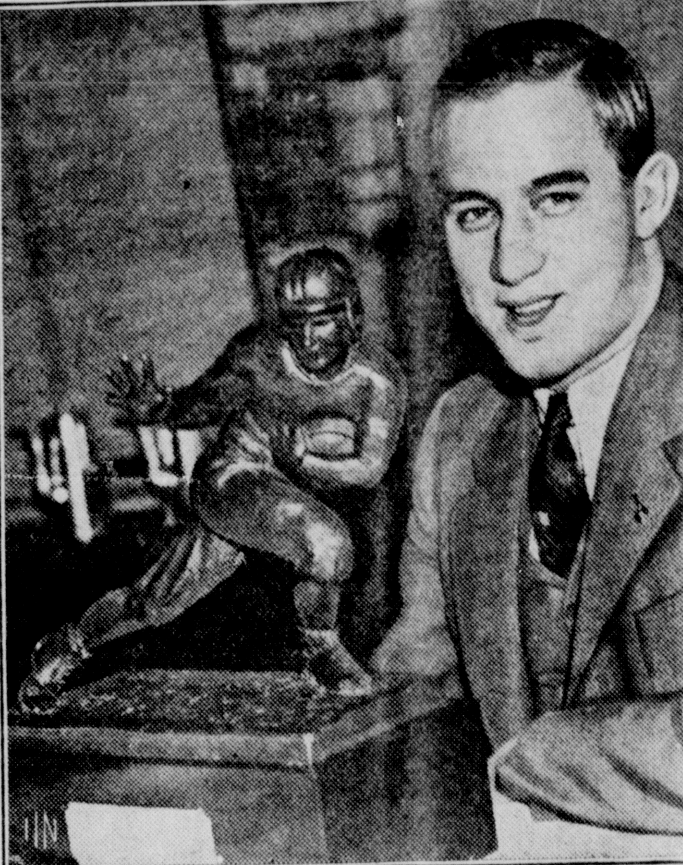

"I think we have a good chance to beat Southern Methodist and that isn't only coaching talk. From what I saw of the Mustangs a couple of weeks ago, they certainly are not invincible. Sure, they play a snappy brand of ball but they'll have to have a mighty strong line to hold Stanford's running attack."

Sixth Trip
This is Thornhill's sixth trip to the Bowl as a Stanford coach, and he thinks it's "about time we got a break." Before he became head coach he was assistant to Glen S. (Pop) Warner.

"This will make my sixth New Year's day game as assistant and head coach," he reflected. "So far we've won one, tied one, and lost the others. I can say this much, with a few breaks going our way instead of to the other side, the coach would have been different on several of the games."

Referee—Reasbeck.
Time of quarters 8 min.

Omaha Was Leading Money Winner On Turf This Year

Woodward's Horse Distinguishes Himself During 1935 Following Faithfully the Footsteps of His Sire

BY LOU EINDMAN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Two turf titles were definitely settled during the course of the year's racing. The three-year-old crown went to William Woodward's Omaha, hands down, and the handicap diadem was captured by Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Discovery in runaway fashion.

Of the two-year-olds, the decision is left to a consensus of opinion, there being no clear-cut margin favoring any member of that class. Most horsemen, however, give the shade to Marshall Field's Tintagel.

Enters Thin Ranks
Omaha distinguished himself brilliantly, following faithfully in the footsteps of his renowned sire, Gallant Fox. The chestnut colt entered the thin ranks of the "Triple Crown" winners by sweeping the Kentucky Derby, Preakness Stakes and Belmont Stakes—most coveted three-year-old classics on the turf.

In accomplishing this, he equaled his sire's performance of five years ago. Omaha turned in a money-winning score of $142,255 to lead all horses for the year in earnings.

Discovery, after a poor beginning, finally leaped into winning stride and turned in some of the most sensational victories of the year, in one of which he hit a new world speed mark. All of these victories were under crushing imposts. Several of his setbacks—particularly the two at the heels of A. A. Baron's colt, Top Row—were caused by additional weight penalties, bringing his impost up to around 140 pounds. Discovery raced 18 times during the year, winning

Controversy Over Coaches Unsettled At U. of Wisconsin

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 20.—The University of Wisconsin athletic department controversy remained unsettled today after the board of regents ended a one-day hearing and adjourned to Jan. 15.

Coaches and athletes were called before the Regents yesterday for testimony on friction within the department, climaxed when Athletic Director Walter Meanwell was accused of trying to oust Dr. Clarence Spears, football coach.

Sessions were closed, but John Golemeske, captain elect of the football team, said the board appeared most interested in his assertion that Meanwell gave him a drink of whiskey after a football game.

A former basketball star, Ray Hamann, said he told the board Meanwell never spoke to him about football. Meanwell had been charged with discriminating against athletes wishing to try out for football during his long tenure as basketball coach.

Spears, Meanwell and Professor A. T. Weaver, chairman of the athletic council, were called before the Regents but declined to discuss what was said.

MOSCOW—The Soviet seems to have found a first class sprinter in Platoon Commander Peter Golovkin of the Moscow Military District.

Running in the All-Union Red Army light athletic meeting at Rostov-on-Don, he covered the 100 meters in 10 6-10 seconds—a new All-Union record.

The world record for the distance is 10 3-10 seconds.

J. Owens King Of Runners

Ohio State Negro Sensation Leads Track Stars of 1935

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Jesse Owens, Ohio State Negro sprint sensation led the pack in track record breaking performances, but shared the limelight with Glenn Cunningham and Chuck Hornbostel, Joe Mangano, middle distance stars; Keith Brown, Yale pole vaulter; Eulace Peacock, Temple sprinter; and Helen Stephens, Missouri girl runner.

Set Four Marks
Owens in addition to cracking records in almost every meet, set four accepted world marks May 25, 1934, at Ann Arbor, Mich., scene of the Big Ten championships.

Owens broad jumped 26 feet, 8 3/4 inches; was timed in 9.4 for 100 yards, 22.6 for 220 yard low hurdles, and 20.3 for 220 yard dash.

Cunningham broke 14 year old record, winning 1,000 yard indoor race in 2:10.1. Hornbostel set an indoor world's record of 1:11.3 for the 600 yard race. Joe Mangano's performance of 3:01.4 for three quarter mile run set an American record.

Eulace Peacock, and Ben Johnson, Negro sprinters from Temple and Columbia were, consistent near record performers. "The former gaining double victories over Owens at the American championships at Lincoln, Neb., and at Buffalo.

Win Indoor Title
Manhattan College won the indoor ICA championship with 26 1/2 points as Keith Brown, of Yale, set indoor mark of 14 feet 3 3/4 inches for the pole vault. Henry Dreyer tossed the 35 pound weight 57 feet 9 inches a record.

The outdoor ICA title went to Southern California with 52 points. Again Brown set the outdoor vault record with 14 feet 5 1/2 inches.

Helen Stephens, Fulton, Mo., became our chief Olympic women's track hope by her performance in the Women's A. A. U. championships. She set a record of 11.6 seconds for the 100 meter run, and then set an American record in the 200 meter run, and climaxed the exhibition with second place in the discus throw.

Chicago Cubs' Pennant Drive Most Surprising Achievement in Sports

Closely Pressing Cubs' Sensational Performance Was Notre Dame's Football Reversal Of Ohio State

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—To the experts peering intently from the sidelines, the sports campaign of 1935 seems to have involved a rapid succession of surprising results, topped off by the dizziest college football season in history.

The biggest surprise of all, based on the returns tabulated today in the fifth annual Associated Press poll, was the sensational stretch drive of the Chicago Cubs to baseball pennant victory.

Closely pressing this major shock to the form players was the twin form reversal in which Notre Dame's football team figured, on successive Saturdays. Of the two stunning results, Notre Dame's last-period triumph over Ohio State was rated more surprising than the downfall of the Irish the following week at the hands of Northwestern.

James J. Braddock's victory on points over Max Baer for the World heavyweight boxing championship topped the individual surprises of the year. To many observers, however, this was no more startling than the triumph of Wilmer Allison over Fred Perry in the United States tennis championships or the victory of Sam Parks, Jr., a 50-to-1 shot, in the American Open golf tournament at Oakmont.

Owen's Defeat Ranked
The defeats of Jesse Owens, Ohio State's record-smashing track athlete, by Eulace Peacock, in the National A. A. U. championships, also were ranked among the main surprises.

Point totals in the poll, based on a 3-2-1 tally of preferences listed by sports editors and writers, showed the Cubs' victory at the head of the list with 92 points. Experts rated the closing drive of the Chicagoans, featured by a 21-game winning streak as the best in the majors since the Boston Braves swept to the top in 1914.

Braddock's victory over Baer took second place from Notre Dame's football triumph over Ohio State by a single point. The totals were 83 to 82.

Football Popular
While football contributed 14 episodes or developments to the list of surprises, the poll covered a wide range of upsets. Azaucar's victory in the Santa Anita Handicap apparently was the biggest surprise to horse race followers.

The second straight collapse of the New York Giants was considered a bigger surprise than the defeat of the World champion Cardinals at the finish of the National League baseball race. Babe Ruth's retirement, a major surprise because of its circumstances, was mentioned by only one observer.

"Unknown" Winston's second knockout by Jack Sharkey, on the same night, belongs among the most surprising events," commented one sports editor, "surprising because I thought he would stay down the first time."

Results of Voting
The tabulation points on the most surprising results:

1. Chicago Cubs' drive to National League pennant, 92.
2. James J. Braddock's victory over Max Baer for heavyweight title, 83.
3. Notre Dame's football victory over Ohio State, 82.
4. Wilmer Allison's tennis victory over Fred Perry in U. S. singles, 58.
5. Northwestern's football victory over Notre Dame, 56.
6. Victory of Sam Parks, Jr., in U. S. Open golf, 31.
7. Eulace Peacock's defeat of Jesse Owens in U. S. track meet, 20.
8. Max Baer's knockout by Joe Louis.
9. Duke's 25-0 football victory over North Carolina, 10.
10. Second collapse of New York Giants in National League race, 7.
- Other team surprises: Toronto Maple Leafs' defeat in three straight matches by Montreal Maroons for Stanley Cup in pro hockey, collapse of Athletics in American league baseball race, and following in football: Mississippi State over Army, Boston College over Michigan State, two defeats and tie for Alabama, four major defeats of Pennsylvania, Bucknell's victories over

MICHIGAN CAGE TEAM AT MOUNT

Wolverines Tangle With Purple At Alliance College Tonight

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Illinois will attempt to prove it belongs among the better Big Ten basketball teams again this season, tonight in the Chicago stadium against DePaul's strong five.

There is a feeling that any team capable of whipping DePaul is of championship caliber. Purdue did it last week.

While the Illini and DePaul are battling it out, Michigan will play Mt. Union at Alliance, O., and Minnesota will be host to Nebraska at Minneapolis.

Michigan will swing over to Cleveland to meet Western Reserve tomorrow night in one of seven games involving conference teams. Indiana meets Vanderbilt at Nashville, Tenn., Iowa, which defeated Loyola, 33 to 26, at Chicago last night, meets Western State Teachers at Kalamazoo, Mich.; Purdue meets Butler at Indianapolis, and Wisconsin goes to Milwaukee to play Marquette. Chicago and Northwestern play at home, the Maroons meeting Armour Tech. and Northwestern tackling Michigan State.

Bout With Gastanaga To Be Held In Cuba On Feb. 2

HAVANA, Dec. 20.—Still a trifle amazed at yesterday's quick postponement, Cuban boxing promoters associated with Mike Jacobs of New York in promoting the Joe Louis-Louis Gastanaga bout, prepared today to refund the money received on advance sales and start all over again, hoping the new date for the fight would stand.

Ends Wrangling
Jacobs, who came here yesterday to investigate reports that "political conditions" might interfere with the holding of the bout on Dec. 29, ended a day of wrangling by postponing the battle to Feb. 2, and ordering the advance sale stopped.

The difficulty was not that trouble was expected but that Louis had gone stale," Jacobs explained after being assured by government officials, including Jorge Echarte, secretary of state, that there was no danger of disturbances.

He remained adamant even though Rafael Cepeda, president of the Cuban Boxing association, ordered virtually everyone concerned with the postponement suspended until Louis should appear in Cuba. The order covered Jacobs, Louis, and Julian Black, one of the "Devil Demon's" co-managers.

Needs Rest
"Louis seems to have gone stale and needs a rest," Jacobs said. "His manager has called and telephoned us, saying the boy positively can't fight Dec. 29. He has had 15 fights in 11 months and his doctor has told him not to put on a glove for at least a month."

The fight would not be transferred to the United States, the promoter added, as "Gastanaga must fight Louis here in Havana before he gets a chance to fight in the United States."

In order to settle on the Feb. 2 date Mike Jacobs had to get permission from Joe Jacobs, manager of Max Schmeling, who accompanied him here. The agreement for a Schmeling-Louis fight next summer provided that Louis should not fight again after Jan. 31 until he met the German heavyweight.

Pup Jumps 40 Feet
CLEVELAND, Dec. 20.—"Butch," a police puppy, was limping on one injured foot today, but he had earned fame by jumping 40 feet to the ground when trapped on the roof of a burning building.

Wounded By Bomb
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—Dyndon (Red) Foster, lobbyist and pamphlet publisher, was wounded in the arms and face early today when a bomb wrecked his apartment in the fashionable Wilshire district.

Official Predicts Center Jump Will Be Ousted Soon

Frank Lane, Big Ten Referee, Says the Center-tap Method of Putting Ball in Play Puts "Undue Emphasis" on Height

CINCINNATI, Dec. 20.—Expected the "increased action due to the new statute wherein the ball is played immediately from out-of-bounds after a successful foul throw."

Rules governing this year's play demands "speed and more speed" Lane said, and the resulting game is a "squad affair, rather than just a contest for five players on a side."

"Perhaps it will not happen by next season, but surely before two more years roll by we will see complete elimination of the center-jump."

Fesler Develops Ends At Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Harvard's football colors may have dipped to new all-time lows in the past few years, but Crimson ends have been ranked with the topnotchers. For which Wes Fesler, all-American for two years with Ohio State may take a bow.

Under his tutelage Capt. Shaun Kelley progressed rapidly from a pretty good wingman to a first rater. Emile Dubiel, sensational trackman who never played football before last fall, developed into a standout end who might have gained national recognition this year if he had not been handicapped by injuries.

Bob Knapp, a little fellow with few attributes of orthodox ends, filled in nicely for Dubiel, playing a heady game.

All of which adds up to three triumphs in two years of coaching for Wes Fesler.

"WIFE IN CUSTODY" by BEATRICE LUBITZ

CHAPTER XVIII
Stella began to shriek at Irene. Agnes rushed to part them. The men stood by sheepishly. Ethel came over to Helen. "Don't mind them, Helen, they'll get over it," she promised wisely.

"Thank you," Helen said gratefully in a low voice. Her face was burning. Not even tears came now to her relief.

Jerry came forward. "My best, old man," he said to his brother-in-law.

Dirk shook hands warmly with Walter. Then he turned to his wife. "I hope you're ashamed of yourself, Irene. I am heartily ashamed of you. Your brother's wife is in your home and not one of you, yes, pardon me, except Ethel has bid her welcome or uttered one word of congratulation to your brother. For he is to be congratulated for having won such a charming girl as his wife. I apologize to you for my wife, Helen, and I wish you great happiness and joy." He leaned over and kissed her forehead.

There was a silence. Irene struggled to regain her composure. She looked at Dirk's words. It was the first time she had lost her temper in his presence and she saw that he was shocked.

"I'm sorry," she countered swiftly. "You've made your bed, Walter and I hope you find it comfortable." She kissed him. "I offer you both my best wishes. Please don't expect me to congratulate you." She held out her hand to Helen.

"Thank you," Helen took the proffered hand. They shook briefly. Walter, glad that the furor was over, kissed Irene gratefully.

The others, taken aback at Irene's about-face, lamely congratulated first Helen and then Walter as the safest procedure. It was hardest for Stella but even she managed it. Helen said no word except "Thank you."

There was an embarrassed silence, which Walter broke. "Let's go in and see how mother is, Helen and then we'll go."

"You're not going away tonight," Agnes protested. "Mama might have a relapse."

"You're here," Walter retorted briefly. "We're at the Plaza. You can phone me."

Before they reached the door Stella blurted out, "I suppose she'll have to be assistant manager or something. Not that I need an assistant! She can't just go back to manufacturing."

Walter said curtly: "My wife is out of the salons entirely." "There was a splutter of rage. "We're not too good to work," Stella snarled.

"It is not necessary for her to work," Walter said savagely. "I can support my wife."

He took Helen's hand and pulled her out of the doorway into his mother's room.

Irene said in a hard voice: "I'm going home. Are you coming, Dirk?" Without a word she picked up her wrap. Dirk followed her.

"She's wild," Agnes whispered fearfully to Stella who still stood uncertainly.

"No wonder. That was a rotten thing Walt said. Dirk could make forty thousand a year if he went back to his old job with John Kayle, selling asbestos. Walter had a rotten nerve to say that to us."

Agnes patted Carl's hand. "He said it to you, Stella dear," she murmured sweetly.

"You needn't sit back so high and mighty. I guess Jerry can earn as much as Carl any time if they both went back to their original jobs." Stella burst out angrily. "Walt has a rotten nerve to insinuate that only he can support a wife! Jerry is doing wonderfully in Brooklyn. The way mama ran down that shop it would be closed by now if Jerry wasn't such a good manager."

"Oh, cut it," Jerry broke in crossly. "You girls give me a pain in the neck. I'm going."

Walter and Helen said good night briefly to Agnes and to Carl. "In the car Helen was silent."

"I'm sorry darling," Walter apologized humbly. "It was pretty awful, wasn't it? But it's all over now. They'll be lovely from now on. Even Stella. She sounds like the worst of the lot, but underneath she has a heart of gold. Your worst troubles are over. You carried it off beautifully, darling, beautifully and with dignity."

At breakfast next morning he was almost happy.

Helen poured coffee and felt housewifely and domestic. "Darling, I ought to look for an apartment."

"Don't you like the Plaza?" he teased.

"Yes, of course, but I want to keep house. I want to cook for you. I'll ask your mother for your favorite recipes. Is she a good cook?"

"Terrible," he said cheerfully. "Mother has no instinct for cooking."

"Well, I have," she chuckled. "I want to market and bake and cook stews. I guess it's the hausfrau coming out in me. I wish my mother were alive to see how happy I am," she sighed. "Walter, shall I drop in this morning to see how your mother is?"

"Gee, that's sweet of you, Helen." "There'll be no one there. You know when I leaned over and kissed her, I'm sure she grinned at me. It really was a grin, just like yours."

Walter laughed. "Yes, she has a grin. You could hardly call it a smile. She's a handful, the old demon, but you can't help liking her. You were talking about an apartment. You know the farm I own in Bound Brook. He flushed slightly as he always did when he mentioned it. "My tenants are moving out August first. It's a lovely place. Would you like to furnish it as a summer place or something?" "Oh, Walter! How perfectly marvelous! A whole house in the country. I'd adore it."

Before he left, he said rather embarrassedly. "Oh, here's some money for you. It's all for you. I mean, don't pay rent or anything with it! I'll do that. This is for you you know, clothes or whatever you like."

"Oh, Walter, it's too much. How much is it? It's such a thick roll." He laughed joyously. "It may be all singles. I don't really know how much there is. But if it isn't enough just remind me to give you more."

"Walter, don't forget I'm only a simple working-girl!"

"That's why I love you so," he said soberly. "Take your time about finding an apartment. Enjoy your- self. I wish we could get away on a trip but I'm too busy just yet. We'll go later. But we'll start our honeymoon in New York. Can you meet me for lunch?"

"Surely, I'll be at your mother's till about 11:30 and I can meet you at 12. Then this afternoon I'd like to go to see my cousins in Brooklyn."

"Well, I'll meet you there. I'll be in Brooklyn late this afternoon. "Darling if my cousin insists on our staying there for dinner, you'll stay, won't you?"

"Sure."

"Oh, what a darling you are," she breathed, kissing him again. "We're going to be so happy."

"Well, I've got to fly. Get yourself a lot of nice clothes and what-nots. I'll tell you what, Walter had an inspiration. "I'll ask Irene to take you shopping. She has marvelous taste and she'll be flattered to death. It'll be a good way for you two to get friendly."

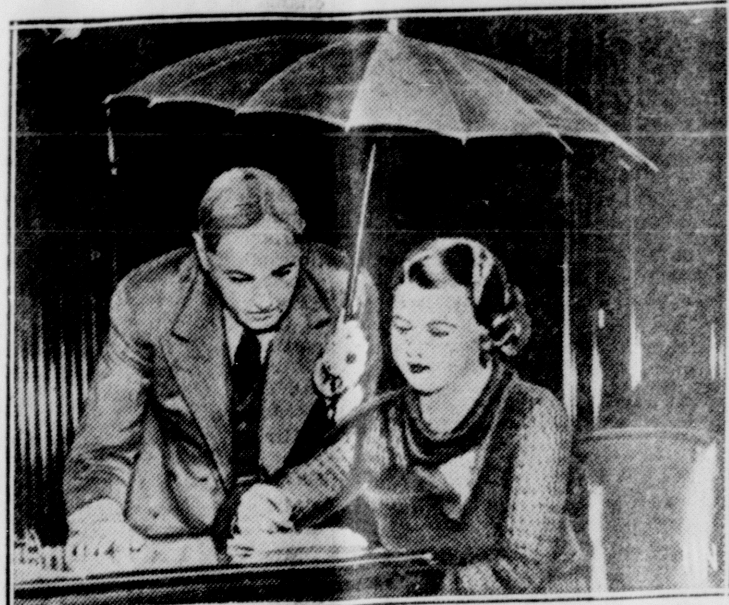

There was a little silence. Helen said finally, "I don't like to bother Irene."

"Oh, she'll love it. She loves clothing people." He chuckled. "I'm on my way there this morning. I'll tell her. She'll be pleased as punch."

"But, Walter dear, I'd like to choose my own clothes."

"You're not holding anything against Irene are you Helen? That would be silly. She has a quick temper but she did apologize once she calmed down. You might as well make up your mind to be friendly and agreeable to the girls. After all, you have to get along with your in-laws all your life."

"I know it, sweet, and I'll do my best. Only I do like my own taste in clothes. And didn't I prove what good taste I have by falling in love with you?"

"Well, if you should change your mind and want Irene to help you with your clothes, you mustn't hesitate to ask her. You can absolutely be guided by her taste. It's exceptional."

A Santa Claus At Right Time

BALTIMORE, Dec. 20. — Betty May Satti, who's only three, is going to have a Christmas tree after all. And under it, she's going to find presents from such far-re-moved states as California, Washington, and Minnesota.

Less than two weeks ago, her 23-year-old father, Alfred J. Satti, on relief and unable to obtain funds to heat his home or buy food—let alone prepare for Betty May's Christmas—hanged himself in a police station cell.

He was charged with tapping gas and electric lines and diverting the current to his home. But because he died, Betty May is going to have her first real Christmas.

Mrs. Emma J. Satti today had hidden, in various places in the bare little home, a marvelous assortment of gifts from kind-hearted readers of the story of Satti's suicide. Money, food, toys and dress goods have been coming daily.

Among the toys was a set of ditches and a handkerchief, sent by two California children. On the back of an accompanying snapshot, was a scrawled note:

"Dear Betty May—I hope you have a happy Xmas. I am a little girl 9 years old. I live in California. My little brother sends the handkerchief. Some day when you get bigger, I hope you will write to me. Love, Jean Sanders."

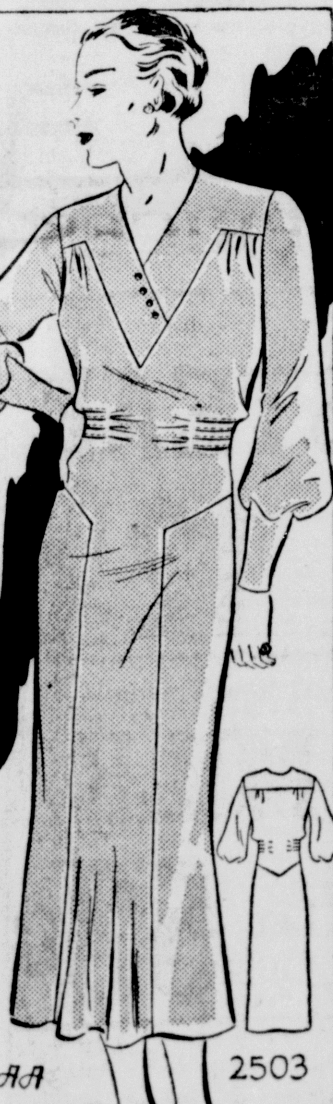

Mountain Triplets Probably Will Live

SOLDIER, Ky., Dec. 20.—Seven days old today, triplets at the log cabin the Everett Porters call home are given a good chance to live, providing kind hearted neighbors help feed and clothe them.

Dr. Dan Fortune delivered the babies on Friday, Dec. 13, although Porters cabin is only 10 miles from here, it took the doctor two hours to make the trip over muddy mountain roads. He rode a mule the last four miles.

Each of the babies, two girls and a boy, weighed 7 pounds at birth, Dr. Fortune said, and all were normally developed and healthy. The 22-year-old mother has two other children, a boy 4, and a girl 2. The father has been unemployed for the last year. The family lives on $2.40 a week dole from relief funds.

Today's Pattern

A SLENDER WAIST LINE
Pattern 2503

"I'd give anything to be slim!" says the forty-eight. Then "dress it off"—with a slim-line, beltless frock such as this, which is easy to make, and simply brimming over with distinction. Well-placed tucks mold the natural waistline with subtle restraint, thus making a belt unnecessary. A simple, pointed yoke extends low in the bodice, detracting from a too heavy bust, while clever diagonals both back and front reduce side-to-side hip measurement. Sheer wool, or dull crepe create a charming day-time style or realize its possibilities for semi-formal wear in satin, anise-length, with softly puffed sleeves. The yoke and sleeves are in sizes 14, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 4 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

Don't wait! Send now for the winter pattern book! You need all the advice Anne Adams gives you on keeping the family thrifty and attractively dressed. You need to know more about clothes etiquette, more about fabrics and fashions, more about "dressing your type!" You'll welcome the timely tips on Christmas Gift problems too. Price of book 15 cents. Two former senators confer

General sentiment at the Washington meeting of Republican leaders was reported to favor Gov. Alf Landon as 1936 standard bearer, although many of the most powerful G. O. P. chieftains remained noncommittal. Some of the veterans of the organization, such as Senator James W. Davis and ex-Senator David Reed, both of Pennsylvania, left to right, below, continued to look over the field. Cleveland was selected as the choice for the 1936 convention, scheduled to open June 9.

Ohio River Trade Outlook Brightens

EAST LIVERPOOL, Dec. 20. — A bright future for the Ohio valley in particular and river transportation in general was predicted by Capt. Fred Way, Jr., of Sewickley, Pa., and Donald T. Wright of St. Louis, Mo., editor of the Waterways Journal, who visited here yesterday.

The men, whose names are virtually a byword on inland waterways, conferred with H. B. Barth, secretary of the chamber of commerce, on river lore, which is expected to be incorporated in a history of Columbus county being prepared as a federal writers' project.

Today

A Review of the Day's News

By Arthur Brisbane

SEBRING, Fla.—Earth inhabitants do not know their planet, or realize what it offers.

The train that left New York's cold gusts of wind sweeping through skyscraper canyons is rolling today through Florida's hot sunshine. (All the lower part of this country, California, the Gulf Coast, Florida, are one great winter sun parlor.)

Airships with Diesel engines will soon take passengers from any part of the North to any section of the national sun parlor, in part of a morning, at a cost far below railroad rates of today.

A wise railroad king should build air lines, and, if he has any money left, work at the problem of the 500 passenger dirigible.

Stage coach owners growled at railroads, but did not build any. That was their mistake.

YOU KNOW Dr. Townsend's Plan, $200 a month pension for all past 60. In Michigan's congressional election the Republican supporting the plan was swept into office, latest news of the vote being 2 to 1 that this is written.

The Republican party would probably reply, "Get these behind me Satan!" to a suggestion that the G. O. P. incorporate the Townsend Plan in its platform. The national Democratic party could not do it, because it has a baby Townsend Plan of its own, and "New Deal" promises.

FOR REPUBLICANS to promise the Townsend $200 a month plan would be like promising the moon to a crying baby, the thing being impossible, according to common sense finance. It would be the first "Yes, dear, you may have the moon" campaign, and even so it would not be siller than some others.

The Townsend plan would be supported by three young people for every 60-year-old pensioner. The young would count on taking for themselves at least 80 per cent of grandma's $200 a month pension, which under the plan must be spent immediately.

The young would attend to that (what a boom for the automobile industry) and comfort themselves with "grandma could not spend more than $40 a month if she tried."

What a change it would make in old people's lives. No more complaints: "We never see our grandchildren."

UNCLE SAM may get his green-back presses ready, for today financing with "inflation bonds" will not meet the approaching situation.

Mr. Byrnes, speaker of the House, says the soldiers' bonus will pass both houses of Congress, less than 30 days from the start.

That would turn loose two thousand million dollars cash at once, a flea-bite compared with the eight thousand millions a year needed for the Townsend plan, but every little billion helps.

THE COUNTRY has inflation now, with its 59 cent dollars and double the amount of cash circulating, compared with prosperous 1929.

Inflation is not realized because bankers, their vaults bulging, do not dare lend, not knowing what is good security or what upstanding 100 per cent American will be "flat broke" six months hence.

"JAPANESE AIRPLANES bomb Kuyman in China, many killed."

Including civilians and soldiers, Japanese ordered China's soldiers to evacuate the city, dropped bombs when they refused.

What will kind hearted England and the League of Nations do about that? Not much, Premier Baldwin, justifying the sudden decision to carve up Ethiopia to satisfy Italy, reveals the fact that British ships feared to visit Italian ports during the recent unpleasantness. That brings danger too close.

How would Britain feel about Japan, so close to big unprotected Australia, so convenient to England's Asiatic possessions and her important trade lines?

ENGLAND FEELS that if anything is done about Japan, Uncle Sam should do it. In fact, if Europe had her way, Uncle Sam would do everything that might be done about ANYBODY.

Fortunately, the President who has pledged himself and the country to neutrality, seems to have overruled some of his subordinates' silly attempts to make this country lead in sanctions against Italy by forbidding oil exports.

GRADUALLY very gradually, United States air force is building. Contracts are let for 100 250-mile-an-hour fighting planes, each to carry two men, five machine guns, 20 small or four large bombs. We should have a real air force and the present program is child's play, but anything is better than nothing.
